

Search on for ATC track

The municipality and representatives of the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association (HCSA) will search for another location to hold ATC races in the townships. The agreement to consider a number of other sites came at the April 25 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden council.

HCSA president Leroy Lichty and past president Tom Prentice, approached the council on the matter. They pointed out that the summer racing events help to finance the HCSA's winter activities. Mr. Lichty also noted that the ATC races bring people to the community, adding to revenue at local businesses.

Lichty said the suggestion offered by the municipality that the track be moved to a location further north was unsuitable for a number of reasons. The proposed site, within the arena complex park property, is heavily treed at the moment. Lichty said a large number of trees would have to be removed to accommodate the track. As well, more trees would have to be cut to give spectators a clear view of the action.

The HCSA president suggested that 30 years ago, residents in the area were complaining about the noise caused by cows when their calves were being weaned.

He said he was looking for the council's endorsement of their activity, not only for the direct impact the three summer races have on the local economy, but also for the benefits which accrue to winter activity through money raised to support the snowmobile association.

Acting Reeve Ed Pergolas told the delegation that they had been informed two years ago their use of the park area behind the arena would be on a limited term basis. "It is an impossibility for you to remain," he told the president.

Community services coordinator Brian Sisson, told the meeting that a suggestion the track be

Kinsmen donate riverside benches

Minden residents will soon find additional outdoor seating facilities along the Gull River thanks to the efforts of the community's Kinsmen Club. A representative of the club, Sid Stamp, appeared before the April 25 meeting of Anson, Hindon and Minden council to receive the final go ahead for the purchase of the new benches.

Stamp told the meeting that the new benches would be made of cast aluminum. A sample of the material was available for inspection. He said the bench material was strong and the seating would be permanently anchored to the ground, reducing the damage caused by vandals.

The benches also do not require painting, so maintenance costs will be minimal.

The 15 new benches are to be located along the river and at several locations in the downtown area.

Placement of the benches will be determined by representatives from the service club, the parks department and the Minden BIA. Each bench will have a small plaque on it noting that the facility was donated by the Kinsmen Club.

Acting Reeve Ed Pergolas thanked the Kinsmen Club for their generous donation to the community.

Taxes up 19.4%

Haliburton County ratepayers will find education taxes up 19.4% this year.

The Haliburton County Board of Education has approved a 1985 budget of $8,514,607 an increase of $531,398 or 6.65% over last year. The budget was passed during a lengthy meeting of the Board last night.

Elementary schools in the county will receive $5,121,161 in operating funds while the secondary school will receive $3,393,446.

While the provincial funding increased by only 3%, the municipal levy has jumped by $863,500 to $5,306,256, an increase of 19.4%, a result of a number of factors, including declining enrolment, special education programs and provincial funding that has not kept up with inflation.

A detailed analysis of the budget will be published in next week's issue of The Times.

Residents watch river levels

With memories of past floods still fresh in their minds, many residents of Minden are keeping a close watch on the Gull River these days.

For the past two weeks the water level has remained consistently high and in places is within inches of overflowing the banks.

But according to Bruce Kitchen, the Water Control Engineer with Trent Severn Waterways, the river has reached a peak and should begin to decline within the next few days. That is if it doesn't rain too much.

The Trent Severn Waterways, a branch of Parks Canada, controls the water levels throughout the Gull River Watershed which serves as a reservoir for the Trent Canal System.

By placing stop logs in the numerous dams throughout the watershed engineers are able to store the spring runoff then release it during the summer to ensure a steady flow through the canal.

This spring, the sudden warm spell has inundated the system filling all the reservoir lakes to capacity and because the system is still being fed by the spring melt in the northern watershed the water levels remain high.

According to the Water Control Engineer Bruce Kitchen, "The top end of the Gull River still seems to be rising today (Monday) at least at our gauge at Maple Lake, but I would think in another day or so that should begin to decline."

Kitchen pointed out that although there was not an excessive amount of snow this past winter the sudden warm spell, (including a

by Hilde Lange

Springtime has arrived in Nebraska on the wings of 300,000 sandhill cranes congregated on the Platte River just north of Minden. It's all part of their annual migration from wintering grounds along the Mexico and Texas coasts to breeding grounds in northern Canada and the Northwest Territories. In addition to the cranes, observers also enjoy watching bald eagles, Canada geese and many species of ducks along the Platte.

Although the cranes and geese choose to go north to spend the summer, Nebraska has an interesting assortment of wildlife. This year Nebraskans have an opportunity to help the state's nongame wildlife simply by designating a portion of their state income tax refund to the cause.

Until this year, the state Game and Parks Commission's nongame and endangered species program was funded entirely through the state's general fund. In 1984, the budgeted amount was $160,000 or about $320 per nongame species. Clearly that's not enough to meet the need.

Nongame wildlife includes everything that is not commonly hunted, fished or trapped which is more than 450 species or nearly 80% of all the animal life in Nebraska. It includes songbirds such as the cardinal and bluebird; hawks and owls; the great blue heron, other wading birds and shorebirds; the flying squirrel and swift fox; and many species of frogs and turtles.

This year as Nebraskans file their 1984 Individual Income Tax form, there is a place where they can contribute an amount of their choice to the Nongame Species Conservation Fund.

It is true that nongame species receive some spin-off benefits from the fees paid by sportsmen who hunt game species. For example, preservation of wetlands for ducks also helps other non-hunted species. But fees from hunting and fishing licences are naturally targeted to the game animals, and the nongame species have many of their own specific needs.

Overall, the objectives of this program are to maintain the diversity and abundance of our nongame wildlife resources, to prevent nongame species from becoming endangered or threatened and to restore currently endangered and threatened species. Preservation of wildlife species is necessarily a long-term effort. The Game and Parks Commission plans such long-range programs as these:

- Reintroduction of species gone from the state, such as the river otter, peregrine falcon and eastern chipmunk.
- Design and implementation of habitat management programs for state and private lands that would benefit nongame species.
- Development of a computer data bank of biological information on Nebraska's nongame species and wild plants for use in determining and monitoring their status and distribution.
- Funding various research efforts, such as data collection to aid management programs.
- Establishment of an urban wildlife habitat program for city parks, greenbelts and backyards.
- Implementation of a public awareness campaign to promote the values of nongame wildlife and the need for conservation.

All of these plans are important but none of them are cheap. In a very real sense, the fate of many of Nebraska nongame wildlife species rests with each of us.

It will be after the April 15th deadline for filing tax forms before the results of this fund raising campaign can be assessed. At a time when large sums of money are spent on what many taxpayers consider questionable projects, the preservation of some of our most precious natural resources must be a worthwhile cause.

In trying to give our Canadian friends a sort of overview of life in Minden, Nebraska, U.S.A., I can't help but wonder if I have overlooked telling about some aspect of life here that would interest you most. Now is your chance to find out all the things you have always wondered about in the U.S. and didn't know who to ask. HCSA looks for new site moved to the northeastern corner of the arena property would probably result in further complaints about noise and dust. He indicated that residents close to this site have already said they would be voicing their objections if the site is chosen.

Councillor Pat Burk told the meeting that she did not like to see the track being done away with. "We have to live together on this," she commented. "It is important to one group...we have to cater to everyone."

Councillor Gary Kenney suggested that perhaps the municipality "Was being rather too parochial on this matter." He suggested that rather than try to accommodate this race track in Minden, the organization should be looking for a location in other parts of the county.

Past president Tom Prentice pointed out that a track may be built in the Haliburton Village area, but that it would likely be a private undertaking, reducing any income the HCSA may garner for its winter activities.

Following a lengthy discussion, the HCSA representatives agreed to examine a number of potential sites for the race track. Both on municipally owned land, one is located south of the present Scotch Line land fill site, while the second is at the Bobcaygeon Road gravel pit.

Snowmobiles

The HCSA representatives were also seeking direction from the councillors on hosting an Ontario Racing Federation professional race this coming winter. Tom Prentice told the meeting that a similar race held in Eganville this past season attracted upward of 11,000 spectators during the three days of racing. Prentice told the councillors that since the machines are modified, the sound suppression mufflers have been stripped off. "These machines are loud," he told the meeting.

He said he did not want to jeopardize other winter activities, such as the ice car racing, by hosting the snowmobile event. The snowmobile racers would use the same track as the cars do at the fairgrounds.

Councillor Gary Kenney suggested that the HCSA poll the residents in the immediate area of the track to determine if they would be willing to put up with the noise for one weekend during the winter. "If you could show us that people are willing to accept the noise in advance, I would say we would be willing to give it a try," Kenney said.

The HCSA representatives said they would attempt to get a reading of public concern or support for the project.

record breaking temperature on April 22), that followed the cold spell at the beginning of April, caused a sudden surge in the spring melt. "If the snow had gone more gradually before this I don't think we would be in this jam," he said.

Kitchen made a point of noting, "We didn't go out and catch a lot of water early, then have to get rid of it after. We never set out to catch it that fast. We let Twelve Mile Lake and Horseshoe Lake fill faster than we wanted because we didn't want to send a large flow through Minden."

Kitchen added that although Twelve Mile Lake, Horseshoe Lake and other lakes in the northern watershed have been overfilled by installing extra stop logs, "all the logs have been out of Gull Lake (south of Minden) for some time, but the water can't get away fast enough and it backs up into the village of Minden if we increase the flow from the north."

"In the lower Gull," Kitchen said, "the water is well above summer levels but is not excessively high and has remained constant."

While water levels in the Burnt River and Black River systems are declining, the Gull River levels remain high. "There is a lot of lag time in the Gull because of the number of lakes that have to drain, so it takes longer for the water to flow through," he said.

Kitchen added, "We could have run more water from the lakes north of Minden, but we didn't want to cause flooding."

High water along the Gull River has isolated this picnic table and left many riverside residents worried about potential flooding.

Referring to the floods that occurred two years ago, Kitchen said, "We are in the same sort of situation as 1983 but fortunately without the rain that got us into trouble then. It would have been much worse if there was rain."

If there is a heavy rainfall while the river levels remain high, the engineers "could put stop logs in if it would help some place immediately below the dam. But it might be bad anyway. We will have to make those choices at the time," he said.

As Kitchen noted, there is a possibility of rain showers on Wednesday, but the forecast for the rest of the week calls for clear skies.

Co-operative effort needed

The ATC races sponsored by the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association may not be everyone's cup of tea. Many find the sport a waste of time, an activity of dust raising, noisy, motorized three wheelers that has little or no appeal.

Others would disagree.

Like them or not, the ATC races provide the area with an attraction, one of many during the year, which adds to our economic well-being. If we purport to be an area catering to tourism, then the community must be prepared to support and encourage events which are attractions, like the ATC races.

A co-operative effort by the race organizers and the municipality will ensure the event survives and prospers in the future, not only to entertain spectators, but to help feed the coffers of the snowmobile association.

Postal stick-up

If Canada Post Corporation has its way, Canadians should be paying 2¢ more for first class mailing privileges on June 24. The proposed rate hike was announced several weeks ago by the corporation's head, Michael Warren.

According to the Canadian Federation of Independent Businesses, the increase will mean that the cost of sending a first class letter will have doubled in the past four years. That in itself, is an amazing statistic when one considers that inflation has been slowly brought under control in that time period.

It is galling to watch the postal service in the United States provide equivalent or better mail service for a domestic rate of 20¢.

The rate increase must be approved by the federal cabinet. Now is the time to voice concern over this postal stick-up. There is no need to put a stamp on a letter to your M.P. Let your representative know how you feel before it is too late.

Editor:

I applaud the headline to your editorial of April 24. It is indeed "Time for a change."

The change should not be, however, in the representative from Victoria-Haliburton. The change we really need is in the majority representation at Queen's Park.

In the past 41 years people have complained bitterly about the arrogance, lack of concern, and wasteful spending of the Conservative government. Yet, for some strange reason, many of those same people vote PC time after time.

The record of this government on environmental issues is appalling.

Remember the Reed Paper fiasco of the early 70's? Premier Davis promised a better reforestation policy. "Two trees planted for every one harvested," he said. It must have been a joke!

Remember the "non-existent" mercury poisoning of the English-Wabagoon River and the government's callous disregard for the welfare of the victims on the White Dog and Grassy Narrows reserves?

Remember how the Conservatives by-passed the Environmental Protection hearings in choosing the prime farm land of Cayuga for a toxic waste site?

The list could go on and on ... polluted wells in numerous areas, acknowledged only after years of complaint; radioactive waste still waiting for removal from residential areas of Toronto, etc., etc.

There are too many such cases to chronicle.

One thing is evident. The Conservatives certainly don't err on the side of caution in matters concerning the environment. Their faltering, uneducated response to the recent P.C.B. spills in northwestern Ontario bear witness to that.

The Conservative record on financial issues is equally depressing. Ontario, "the Province of Opportunity," is no more.

Ontario Hydro is one of the most notable examples of wasteful spending. Our money continues to be poured into nuclear power despite the fact that numerous and frequent malfunctions in equipment at Douglas Point, Chalk River and Pickering have shut down reactors and whole plants, costing us millions, if not billions, of dollars in repairs and clean-up operations.

Recently, there was a temporary shut-down of one reactor because there was an excess of power which could not be sold, yet, the exorbitantly expensive Darlington project is still slated for completion. How many more billions will be wasted?

The Conservatives have cut funds from medical, social and educational programs. Still, somehow, they manage to find several millions to fund a domed stadium in Toronto. One wonders about the priorities of such a government.

This is the company Murray Fearrey wants to keep. He may be a "home town boy", but he's chosen a bad pack with which to run.

Our county should be proud, that, for the past few years at least, our MPP has sat on the opposite side of the Legislature.

Victoria-Haliburton has been ably served by the Liberal incumbent. John Eakins has been a diligent and intelligent representative and an eloquent spokesman for Haliburton County.

Hopefully he will continue in this capacity for many years.

Federation of Ontario Naturalists

It's a mystical sound, that punctuates the balmy evenings of late April and early May. Chronologically wedged between crocus' starbursts and trillium's snow-white carpet, the chorus heralds a ritual of fascinating proportions - a ritual whose product will be yet another generation of intriguing - and highly beneficial - characters.

American Toads! Throughout eastern North America, they're now groggily 'digging out' from the sandy hillsides and woodlands that have made a 9-month bed. Still stupor-struck, and bedecked with earthen clods, the adults head for the ponds.

Big ponds. Little ponds. Even water-filled ditches will do. There, chins raised and throats distended like giant balloons, they commence the trill.

Awkward, but gentle giants - fully 3 to 4" long - they pair to lay long, winding strings of tiny eggs.

Then, off they head, for the surrounding countryside. For forests and woodlots, ravines, and even gardens they head.

Like living strings of pearls, those eggs mature, then pop to release the tiniest of tadpoles. Mere tailed-black spots, they'll grow spectacularly upon the pond's rich supply of microscopic plants and animals. By late June - less than 2 months away - they'll already be emerging as 1/4 miniatures. Perfectly formed, they're already replete with spots and warts, and ready for a whole new life.

No accident, this rapid emergence enables toads to utilize even the tiny, brief-lived ponds of spring. By the time those ponds dry under July's thirsty sun rays, the toads will already be independent. Quickly, they'll "tank up" on the rich insect array of the pond edge, then make also for that countryside.

You'll see them soon - first the elders. Then, by July, the progeny.

But, have you ever looked at one of these characters? I mean, really looked? They're all superbly adapted - mottled browns and textured bumps that blend with the forest floor. Shovel-like feet to excavate burrows. And warts that secrete milky fluid fowl enough to revulse even the hungriest of predators.

But, look closer still - watch one, out for a lazy evening hop in search of insects by the dozen. Or another, hidden from the sun's blistering heat beneath a parasol of violet leaves. They each have their own personalities. Their comings and goings.

Candidates quizzed on environmental issues

-by Michael Shirley-

During the provincial election campaign, a questionnaire entitled "The Project for Environmental Priorities" was circulated to all candidates in the province, including the leaders of the three major political parties.

The questionnaire was prepared by a coalition of seventeen environmental groups.

The coalition was represented in the Victoria-Haliburton riding by the Haliburton County Anti-Pollution Committee.

The candidates were asked to respond 'Yes', 'No' or 'Undecided' or 'No Response' to thirteen questions under four separate headings and were also asked to include any personal comments they wished to make.

A tally of the answers shows the Progressive Conservative candidate, Murray Fearrey, answering 'Yes' to nine questions and 'Undecided' to the remainder.

The Liberal incumbent, John Eakins, answered 'Yes' to twelve questions and was 'Undecided' on one issue.

Art Field, the New Democrat candidate also answered 'Yes' to twelve questions and was 'Undecided' on one other.

All three candidates supported the establishment of a Safe Drinking Water Act which would guarantee Ontario citizens the right to safe drinking water.

The second question points out that a recent federal-provincial task force put forward a workable plan to reduce 86% of the sulphur dioxide emissions from Inco's Sudbury smelter. Yet, a 1980 control order issued by the Ontario government still allows 1770 tonnes of sulphur dioxide emissions a day.

The candidates were asked if they support the issuance of a non-repealable regulation by the end of 1985 requiring Inco to reduce its sulphur dioxide emissions to no more than 275 tonnes per day by the earliest technically feasible date and in any case, no later than January 1, 1994.

Eakins and Field supported the regulation. Fearrey answered that he was undecided and commented, "It depends on the details of the regulation."

All three candidates supported changes in the Niagara Escarpment Plan recently proposed by the former Minister of Resource Development so that aggregate production will be subject to the same planning regulations as recreational and residential development.

Provincial Parks

Question four deals with the announcement in June, 1983, by the provincial government that 155 new parks would be created and that the target date for putting those parks "In regulation," thus protecting the land for park uses, was June, 1985.

The questionnaire notes that to date, the government has acted on less than half the proposed parks and asks the candidates if they support prompt government action to put all 155 parks into regulation by the end of 1985, to be followed immediately by the announcement of a schedule for the planning and development of these parks.

The question received an affirmative answer from each of the candidates.

Drawing attention to a proposal by the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources to initiate massive chemical spraying programs to combat the growing population of forest budworm in Northern Ontario, the questionnaire maintains that the sprays pose environmental and health problems which could be avoided by using biological controls and that the spraying will not get to the root of the budworm program: poor forest management practices.

The candidates were asked "Will you oppose the spraying of chemical pesticides and deal with the budworm problem using biological controls and improved forest management practices?"

Field answered affirmatively while Eakins and Fearrey said they were undecided. Fearrey added the comment, "Would depend on the efficiency of the biological controls and management practices."

Spill Bill supported

Under question six, each candidate endorsed the immediate proclamation of the section of the Environmental Protection Act known as the Spill Bill, which sets out emergency and safety mechanisms in the event of a hazardous spill.

The question notes that although the bill was passed by the legislature in 1979, it has not been proclaimed by the Ontario Cabinet.

Under the second heading, Developing a Sustainable Economy, question 7 notes that in the past 30 years, over one million hectares of farmland in Ontario has been taken over by urban expansion, resulting in increased food imports and a permanent loss of an important economic resource.

All three candidates supported the establishment of a clear provincial foodlands policy which would set as its first objective, the halving of the rural to urban land conversion by 1990.

Question eight, dealing with energy, pointed out that the cost of constructing the Darlington Nuclear Generating Plant has risen to $11 billion, adding to the $22 billion debt of Ontario Hydro. The candidates were asked: (a) Do you support the establishment of a task force to examine Ontario Hydro's structure, policies and accountability? (b) Do you support and immediate cancellation of construction of the Darlington Nuclear Generating Station?

Eakins answered 'Yes' to both questions. Fearrey and Field supported the first question but answered 'Undecided' on the second part. Fearrey commented that he would "Personally need to know more about the impact of such closure."

Under question 9 on Municipal Waste Management, the three candidates supported legislative and funding schemes which promote a greater reliance on waste reduction, reusable containers and recycling programs, rather than on energy from waste program that has received millions of dollars from the Ontario government. Environmentalists argue that the plants, which produce energy from waste, compete with existing recovery and reduction schemes and are a possible source of toxic waste.

Intervention assistance

In the third section of the questionnaire, it is noted that a recent study has shown that taxpayers subsidize approximately 50% of private companies costs during environmental hearings, while citizens' groups are forced to raise their own funds.

Eakins and Field supported the establishment of a funding program where the resources of citizens' groups are supplemented with financing shared by the project proponents and the Ministry of the Environment. Fearrey responded that he was undecided and commented that he "Would not support all groups as funds are not unlimited. They would have to be individually assessed and selected in order of priority."

Question eleven asked, "Will you support provincial 'right to know' legislation requiring firms to inform their workers and the public of the chemicals used in or emitted from their operations?" The three candidates supported the proposal without comment. The Environmental Act passed by the Ontario government in 1975 requires examination of the need for and alternatives to projects being proposed.

Under question twelve, it is noted that the Assessment Act has been hampered by limited application of the Act, including over 300 exemptions to government projects.

The candidates were asked if they support a strengthening of the Act by restricting the exemption process and by extending the full application of the Act to private sector projects.

All three candidates supported the concept. Eakins qualified his support by stating that there must be some exceptions and Fearrey stated that he would support the strengthening of the Act, but "Not without further study to determine the sectors."

The final question of the project was prepared by the Haliburton County Anti-Pollution Committee.

When asked if they would support the affiliation of locally based anti-pollution committees with council, each candidate replied that they would support such an affiliation.

The question prompted Fearrey to comment "We would perhaps suggest that a local anti-pollution committee be co-ordinated with elected members to enable a clearer understanding of the problems that affect local areas."

Although he did not make any comments about specific questions, Field included some general remarks with his answers. He stated, "I believe that people should get involved in any issue that may affect any of us. In fact, if you believe in something and do not get involved, do not protest and do not make sure your opinions are heard, then you may well have forfeited your right to complain. In the case of nuclear annihilation and environmental poisoning, the forfeiture may be permanent."

Pension changes

-by Bill Scott, MP-

Effective March 28, exemptions covering casual earnings and interest income for recipients of War Veterans Allowance have been raised. The new maximums raise the ceilings to $2,900 for single recipients and $4,200 for married recipients. The interest income exemption rises to $140 per year.

War Veterans Allowance is currently received by over 88,000 Canadians who are unable to maintain themselves due to advancing age, incapacity or suitable employment not being available. As of April 1, the maximum single rate is $660.99 per month for a single recipient, and $1,003.60 for a married recipient, with no dependents.

On April 22, Health and Welfare Canada announced that they have begun a four year program of mailing out 13 million statements telling individuals about the status of their Canada Pension Plan (CPP) contributions. Under the CPP Act, contributors may ask for a statement of their account once a year, but only a few people do so. This new personalized information package will tell Canada Pension Plan contributors how much they have paid in and what benefit they could expect from the Plan if they were eligible now. It will also explain the other potential CPP benefits such as disability pensions, survivors' and children's benefits as well as the lump sum payable at death. Those closest to retirement will receive their statements first.

Contributors who have questions about the figures in their statements should contact the nearest Income Security Programs Office.

It is an annual tradition for the OPP to hold an open house during Police Week. All OPP facilities will be open to visitors. Youth groups are given a special invitation to come out and meet some of their local OPP officers. Members of the provincial police will be on hand to show visitors around their detachment, and many detachments will feature displays of police activities and equipment.

A special presentation of the Ontario Provincial Police Pipes and Drums will take place Monday, May 13 at the OPP Haliburton office. The band will be playing a street concert outside the office, which is located in the Drag River municipal building across the street from Emmerson Lumber. Following the performance, the band will travel to the senior elementary school in Haliburton for a school presentation.

According to detachment commander Sergeant Bill Bailey, the OPP will host an open house at the Haliburton office throughout the week. He noted the detachment had recently welcomed a number of new officers. These individuals in particular will be in attendance to meet the public. Coffee and donuts will be available.

Throughout Police Week the public will also be invited to visit the detachment office on Highway 35 in Minden. Tours of the facilities will be arranged. OPP Commissioner

Archie Ferguson said, "We are part of every community in Ontario, and we look forward to Police Week so we can meet our neighbours and friends."

Commissioner Ferguson said that the young people of Ontario hold the future in their hands, and if they know who their local police officers are, and what they stand for, then the prospect of a safe community in the years to come will be enhanced.

As well as province-wide open houses, the OPP will be taking part in many displays at shopping malls in larger towns and cities. The displays will often include items of OPP equipment such as boats, snow machines, cruisers and motorcycles.

Residents whose property backs on the location of the new home improvement retail centre planned for Minden's core, received assurances Thursday evening from municipal council that the new enterprise will not interfere with the enjoyment of their property. Mr. and Mrs. Ron Pittaway appeared before the council to express their concerns.

They told the councillors that they were concerned their property would be affected by changes in the drainage pattern in the area as a result of the construction. The requested that a privacy fence be erected along the lot line.

"To separate us from the trucks and traffic."

The couple also expressed concern about noise and fumes from the delivery trucks, suggesting that the vehicles not be left idling at the store.

The Pittaways pointed out that they did not object to the undertaking, but simply wished to ensure that their enjoyment of their property would not be infringed upon. Mr. Pittaway noted that most of the information he had heard about the project, "Came to us third hand." Acting Reeve Ed Pergolas assured the couple the delivery trucks will not be using Anson Street. He said the installation of a privacy fence would be discussed with the developers of the property and pointed out that an individual cannot change the drainage water on his property to adversely affect adjacent property.

Councillor Gary Kenney noted that the Pentneys, the owners of the proposed retail outlet, have shown they are willing to co-operate to reduce any adverse impact on neighbouring property.

Mr. Pittaway said he was pleased to received the assurances offered by the municipality.

Half loads

In a related matter, later in the meeting, the council refused a request to waive the half load restrictions imposed on dump trucks on municipal roads. The request would have allowed trucks bringing sand to the building centre construction site to carry full loads over municipal streets.

It was pointed out that the restrictions are in place to reduce the amount of damage to the streets during the period when the frost is coming out of the ground. It was also suggested that if the municipal council waived the requirements for one particular project, it would find it difficult to refuse other requests. As well, there was some question as to whether the Ministry of Transportation and Communications would subsidize repairs made necessary by the damage caused if the ban was lifted.

In the end, the council decided that the restriction is to remain in place until its expiry date in May.

Flames pour from a century old farmhouse owned by Bill and Mariam Barnes on the Bob Lake Road in Anson Township. Minden firefighters responded to a report of a grass fire at 10:45 a.m. Wednesday. When they arrived at the scene of the blaze at 11 a.m., the fire had engulfed the rear portion of the building. The firefighters quickly exhausted their water supply and were unable to replenish the tanker from a nearby reservoir in time to save the structure.

Council briefs

Items from the April 25 meeting of the Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council.

The council has accepted the bid of OME Insurance Company for the coming year's coverage for the municipality. The company quoted $12,607 for $5 million in total coverage and $13,207 for $10 million.

The only other quote for the insurance coverage came from Frank Cowen Insurance through their local representative, Floyd Hall Limited. The company bid $21,430 for $10 million coverage.

Fire protection survey

The council has agreed to invite the Ontario Fire Marshall to carry out a fire protection survey in the municipality. The assessment, which is carried out at no charge to the townships, will examine the protection being provided by the existing facilities and equipment and how it might be improved. The last assessment was carried out in 1969.

Swimming program

The bus service for this year's municipal learn to swim program, will, once again, be provided by Eldon Deacon Bus Lines of Minden. The program will operate for four weeks with the bus picking up participants in Minden and at locations on Highway 35. Two trips per day are planned. The council approved a per trip rate of $33.50 for the rental of the bus service.

Gravel tender

Approval was given for a tender for crushed gravel. The only tender received for the municipality's 10,000 cubic yard requirements was from Fred Nelson and Son of Keene. The price quoted and accepted, was $1.89 per cubic yard off the crushing belt. The meeting was told the price represented a decrease in what was charged last year.

The crushing will be carried out in two locations with the stipulation that the work at the Highway 35 pit near Carnarvon be completed by June 14 to reduce the disturbance to area residents and resorts.

The municipal needs of the townships of Stanhope and Lutterworth were included in the tender call. Approval from the Ministry of Transportation and Communications will be required as the purchase of the gravel is a subsidized item.

Bridge assessment

The engineering firm of Greer Galloway won the contract to assess the condition of the municipality's five bridges. The price for the work was tendered by the company at $3750. One other firm bid on the project. Totten, Simms, Hubicki, submitted a price of $5000.

Street cleanup

A contract for the downtown area maintenance services has been awarded to Jim Garbutt of Minden. The council agreed to pay $6565 for the summer services.

Housing program debate continues

Opposing points of view, in regard to the federally sponsored Rural and Native Housing Program, were nudged a little closer together Thursday evening, but a wide gulf still separates the two sides.

Members of the Anson, Hindon and Minden municipal council, all who favour the extension of the program in the townships, met with representatives of the Haliburton County Citizens, a group opposing the program, at the regular meeting of the council April 25.

The council had announced it would be responding to a brief from the citizens group which had been sent to the federal minister responsible for the housing program. The brief, prepared by the group and accompanied by a petition bearing 107 names of individuals favouring the comments had been sent to the municipality.

The response by the councillors to the brief covered a number of areas. Acting deputy reeve, Gary Kenney, said he was concerned with the criticism contained in the brief. He described it as "Tarring with a broad brush any government interference (in the economy of a community)."

He said he objected to statements contained in the brief which said the Rural and Native Housing Program "contributed to the national debt" or undermines the work ethic."

Kenney said most government programs, by their nature, help some individuals, while not hurting others, leave them outside the circle of benefit. He suggested that programs like rent control the Ontario Home Renewal Program and the program these citizens objected to, were examples of programs aimed at helping a certain segment of the community. "While I can find points of contention in these programs, I think there are benefits too, not 100%, but there are benefits. This last letter is far too sweeping. I believe there should be as little government interference as possible, but what there is should be monitored."

Councillor Dave Stevens agreed with the objections the group had raised when Canadian Mortgage and Housing, through the municipality, attempted to establish a geared-to-income housing unit in Highland Gate Estates. "However," he said, "I don't think the Rural and Native Housing program should be kicked out of the county."

Councillor Pat Burk commented. "I was disappointed in the letter, I feel the program is of value. It is a necessary program in this day and age."

took issue with the fact that the letter was signed with the group's name rather than by an individual.

"I have difficulty believing that the individuals who signed the petition knew what they were signing," He described the brief as a "damning document to the whole system of housing in Ontario."

Pergolas said the suggestion that six low rental housing units be built in the core of the community was unacceptable. "We want people to own their own homes," he commented.

He pointed out that individuals cannot now "pick and choose their neighbours," as it appeared the group was attempting to do.

He also questioned the use of the name 'Haliburton County' in the group's signature. "This is not the outlook of Stanhope or Lutterworth or Dysart. This doesn't relay their opinion."

Response

While a number of the residents in attendance expressed their concern about the program, Brendan Berube, was the principal spokesman for those in attendance. He noted that the brief had been written by the group and it was a representative statement of the 107 who had signed the accompanying petition. He said some of the signators were from other municipalities.

"We have done our homework," he told the meeting. "The 107 people who signed had no problems with the statements in the letter."

Berube suggested the brief offered positive alternatives, although the councillors said they had trouble finding the constructive elements in the document.

The spokesman faulted the representatives from CMHC for withholding information or for being reluctant to provide the group with details about the program.

Berube said, "There is no significant public support for the housing assistance program in the community."

Acting deputy reeve Gary Kenney said that if the group was unable to obtain information from the CMHC representative, then perhaps they did not have enough information on which to base their comments about the program. He also noted that the covering letter, accompanying the brief, speaks of conciliation, while the brief is negative and leaves little room for rectifying the situation.

Berube replied that there were parts of the program which the group felt were valid, but that they were outweighed by its disadvantages.

Acting Reeve Ed Pergolas suggested that copies of the group's brief be made available to the public at the municipal office. He suggested that those who signed the petition might wish to take a closer look at the points made in the letter to ensure that they want their endorsement to stand.

Berube welcomed the suggestion, adding that he felt if more people saw the brief, they would add their signatures to the 107 already collected. A member of the audience predicted the action would draw an additional 100 supporters of the group's position.

The spokesman said he was supportive of 'valid' housing programs.

The only real area of agreement to emerge from the meeting was a suggestion from Gary Kenney that representatives of the citizen's group, the council and CMHC sit down in a "friendly atmosphere" to discuss their objections and complaints about the program. Kenney appeared to suggest that the meeting should be held in-camera to avoid the confrontational atmosphere. Several members of the citizen's group said they would be willing to take part in such a meeting.

Before leaving, the spokesman for the group requested that a delegation of their size be heard earlier in the council's agenda. While the council had not received a formal request to hear from the citizens, they represented the largest group in attendance

Thursday evening. The matter did not come up for discussion until the correspondence was considered, over two hours into the meeting.

Time for a change

Voters in Victoria-Haliburton are faced with a challenging dilemma with the May 2 provincial election.

The incumbent candidate, Liberal John Eakins, has been a strong and able representative for this riding. One need turn no further than to those who covet his job to find more than grudging admiration for the effort he has put into representing Victoria-Haliburton. There is no question he is dedicated and hard working.

However, for the first time in a number of elections, Eakins is facing a credible challenge in the person of Murray Fearrey. Representing the Progressive Conservatives, he has mounted a hectic campaign that speaks highly of his interest and desire to take the seat from the Liberals. While Fearrey's abilities as a provincial politician have yet to be tested, his efforts on behalf of his municipality and the county offer ample indication that he is able, hard working and looking to the future.

Fearrey has offered a number of sensible policies during the campaign. For example, in the interview reported on page 5, he suggests, quite correctly, that tourism, (along with the forestry industry) will continue to be the mainstay of this county's economy. He suggests that an effort should be made to capitalize on the attractions now in place - the white water, cross-country and snowmobile trails, rockhounding to the east - and let these become the building blocks on which the profile of the county is raised.

His emphasis on jobs, through incentives to small business, is important, as is improved transportation facilities both here and in the southern part of the riding.

We think it is time for a change in representation at Queen's Park.

We are not proposing change for change's sake. Nor do we think that government largesse will flow like water if we return a Conservative to Queen's Park. However, we feel that Murray Fearrey can bring a fresh new outlook to Queen's Park, an outlook that will not only benefit this constituency, but the province as a whole.

Authorized by official agent for Murray Fearrey.

Reprinted in it's entirety from the
April 24, 1985 issue of The Minden
Times.

LEAD board meets

The Haliburton County LEAD Project held its first board of directors meeting on April 25. An executive board of directors was elected and they are: Mr. Ken Wilson (chairman), Mrs. Joan Hoad, Mr. Kerry Barbour, Mr. Grant Montgomery and Mr. Jack Hills.

The LEAD Project has been funded by the Federal Government and was designed to foster permanent employment in the County. The board of directors will decide on the appropriate model for Haliburton County and must choose between a lending corporation, an infrastructure or an enterprise.

Only eligible community organizations may apply for funds related to an infrastructure or enterprise project. Such organizations may include Board of Trade, Chamber of Commerce, Economic Development Associations, Co-operatives or non-profit organizations. Municipalities are eligible if the provincial government raises no objection. These organizations become the sponsor of the project.

An Infrastructure Project covers the development of an area for business (es) to locate. It provides monies for the clearing and servicing of land, it may also provide a plant or physical facility, to enable a business activity to create jobs. An example would be an industrial mall. It must lead to opportunities for continuing employment to the unemployed and must be completed within a planned time frame. The project must not compete unfairly with existing businesses nor existing employees.

An Enterprise Project is funded by LEAD for the operation of a business during the first years of operation. The business must not compete unfairly with existing businesses and must be able to demonstrate that they can employ people and become self sufficient. The business could be the manufacturing and selling of a product or providing a service, but, should reflect the labour and community needs, according to developmental plans. The submission for an enterprise project should contain a thorough business plan and should reflect the need, importance and viability of the sponsoring agents idea.

The Lending Corporation would be incorporated by the Board of Directors and money would be made available to local businesses to expand, so as to result in the creation of new, continuing jobs. The lending policies would be developed by the board of directors, but, there are some criteria already in place; there will be no grants or forgivable loans made by the corporation. No more than $25,000 will be provided by the corporation to a single business in a 12 month period.

Funds, in the form of equity participation, may only be provided by a LEAD Corporation to incorporated private businesses.

The principals must have a financial involvement to a degree that the Board of Directors deems reasonable to the principal's own wealth and the funding requirements of the project.

The principals must have had dealings with other financial institutions.

The minimum rate of interest charged on any loan will be no less than the prevailing bankrate as defined by the Small Business Loans Act.

The Board will be accepting submissions in writing from the public supporting one of the models and detailed information regarding the requirements of each can be obtained at each municipal office or the Haliburton County Chamber of Commerce.

Visitor dies in canoe mishap

One man is dead following a boating accident this past week on Oxtongue Lake. The incident occurred Friday, April 26 at approximately 10:15 p.m.

According to the police, the deceased, 23 year old Kenneth Stachowski of Buffalo, New York, was on the lake in a canoe with a friend. The craft overturned, throwing the pair into the frigid water.

One man was able to swim to shore, 175 feet away, however the second failed to make it to safety. OPP divers located the body of Stachowski the following day in approximately ten feet of water.

The police report there were no lifejackets in the canoe at the time of the accident. The two men had arrived with a group of friends earlier in the day and were staying at rented cottages.

Dr. David Hillier, coroner from Huntsville, attended the scene. No inquest has been scheduled.

College offers new courses

Sir Sandford Fleming College (SSFC) is planning to offer eight new programs this fall which have been designed to respond to the needs of the marketplace.

At the Sutherland Campus in Peterborough, two new programs illustrate the campus' thrust toward a specialization in electronic data communication. The use of computer technology in the transmission of information is the emphasis of the Audio Video Graphics Communication Technician Program. The two-year program trains students in the production of visual materials using computer graphics such as slides and charts for sales and training presentations. The highly successful 52-week Electronics Engineering Technician-Telephone Systems will be offered in a two-year format beginning in September. The program, which trains students for direct employment with interconnect and telephone firms, has maintained a 100 per cent graduate placement rate.

Four other programs are awaiting final Council of Regents approval. The three-year Convention Management Program represents further development in the Sutherland Campus' tourism and hospitality fields. The only program of its kind in North America, it provides students with a high level of management skills in the convention industry. Its advisory committee includes representatives of the Toronto Convention Centre, Westin Hotels and Tourism Canada. A potentially one-quarter billion dollar industry in Canada, tourism and conventions also make a significant contribution to Peterborough and surrounding area.

The new Marine Motive Power-Leisure Equipment Program also meets the needs of the local tourism industry. It is designed to upgrade managerial, interpersonal and technical skills in order to perform a variety of roles in the marina industry.

The Technical Sales and Marketing Program is oriented toward two and three-year technical graduates or those with equivalent experience who wish to enter the rapidly expanding field of marketing technical goods and services. Interpersonal skills and thorough product knowledge are emphasized in the program.

A Word Processing certificate and diploma will be offered in the Secretarial area. These programs are designed to move the College's secretarial training into the forefront of technology. They will include not only studies in traditional secretarial skills and word processing, but also data processing theory and applications. The College recently purchased over $250,000 in word processing equipment.

The recently-approved Natural Resources Law Technician Program to be offered at the Frost Campus in Lindsay is a third-year post-diploma offering for graduates of forestry, forest recreation and fish and wildlife technician programs. It will train students for employment as conservation officers, park wardens, wildlife and fisheries officers, public land inspectors, environmental inspectors and provincial park security officers.

An option in Remote Sensing is currently being developed for the Geographic Information System Technician program. A component of the Centre for Advanced Resource Measurement and Assessment, students in Remote Sensing are trained in the collection of data on the earth and its resources through a variety of methods such as satellites and infra-red and ultra-violet photography from aircraft.

Students studying in related disciplines will have access to the sophisticated equipment that is required in this field.

Due to Canada's large resource base, this field is increasingly taking on importance. Remote sensing experts are able to locate water, monitor icefields, assess fire damage and pollution, examine forest species and discover oil deposits, to name a few applications to natural resources management.

Coach proud of gymnasts progress

Eva Stender is obviously very proud of the members of the Kinmount Public School Gymnastic Club who recently took part in a competition in Lindsay. The girls didn't come home with top prizes, but according to their coach, they finished the competition with a respectable showing, especially considering this was their first competition and many of the communities taking part were larger than Kinmount.

The local club has been in operation for two years with the Kinmount Community Centre providing facilities for their practises. Under the careful eye of their coach, the girls of all elementary school ages, go through their routine of warm-up exercises, floor routines and vaults. The enthusiasm of the young participants is reflected in the support the program has received from the community.

"The Kinmount Public School has been very supportive of our efforts," Mrs. Stender commented. "As well, the Kinmount Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion provided funding to assist in the purchase of ten tumbling mats."

The Lindsay competition, which was held April 20, was the first for the club. Leading up to the event the group practised three times a week. They entered the event with two teams of eight members, representing the junior and senior levels.

The competition included a compulsory tumbling routine and vaulting routine. The individual scores of the participants were totalled to give a team score. The combined scores of the two teams was a respectable 62.7 points.

Mrs. Stender, who was a gymnastic instructor in her native Germany, was pleased with the teams' showing in the Lindsay event. She noted that the girls have a great deal to learn and remember to carry out their routine correctly and that the two years of practise is starting to show results. She expects that as the program continues, the participants will find their abilities to be broadening.

For the moment, however, the coach, her assistants, the parents and most of all the youngsters who make up the Kinmount Public School Gymnastic Club take great pride in their achievements to date.

Provincial election voting procedures

On May 2, Ontario's 33rd general election day, voting at the polls will begin at 9:00 a.m. and will be completed at 8:00 p.m.

Approximately six million residents within Ontario's 125 electoral districts are eligible to vote in this election.

Qualified electors residing in urban areas must have their names on the list of electors in order to cast a ballot. Rural electors, not on the list, may vote only if another qualified elector on the list in the same polling division identifies and vouches for him or her on election day.

Those individuals assigned to vote for another qualified voter by proxy must present a certificate, issued by the Returning Officer, at the poll where the person appointing the proxy is on the polling list. The deadline date for issuing certificates is 7:00 p.m. May 1, the day before polling day.

Ontario general election ballots are black, with the candidates names on the left and circles, to the right of each, in white. Candidates are numbered and listed alphabetically by surname.

Electors will receive a folded ballot from the Deputy Returning Officer. In private, the elector indicates his or her preference, refolds the ballot, and returns it to the Deputy Returning Officer who will deposit the ballot in the sealed ballot box.

Each ballot must be marked in only one circle, the voter's preference, with a cross or other mark. Any ballot having a mark in more than one circle is considered to be spoiled and will be rejected. Also, any ballot containing an identifiable mark will be rejected.

Persons on the polling lists for this election must be 18 years of age on election day, a Canadian citizen or British subject at the time of voting, and must have been a resident of Ontario for at least 12 months prior to election day.

HALIBURTON COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION
NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
FOR YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1984

1. ACCOUNTING PRINCIPLES

The financial statements have been prepared by the Board using accounting principles that are prescribed by the Ministry of Education and are considered appropriate for Ontario School Boards. These principles are in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles except as follows:

(a) Accrual Accounting

Revenue and expenditure are accounted for on the accrual method except for:

(i) No provision is made for interest on unmatured debenture debt from the date of payment to the end of the fiscal year.

(ii) No provision is made to record the liability for retirement and/or sick leave benefits accruing over the working lives of employees.

(b) Fixed Assets

Fixed Assets are charged to current expenditures unless financed by long-term debt. Principal and interest charges on net long-term liabilities are included as expenditures in the period due. Fixed assets including Capital Leases, described as Capital outlay to be recovered in future years, are included on the balance sheet only to the extent of the balances of the related net long-term liabilities outstanding and of the related temporary financing at the end of the fiscal year.

(c) Reserves and Reserve Funds

Reserves and Reserve Funds represent funds appropriated for general and specific purposes and are charged or credited to revenue fund operations in the year appropriated or drawn down.

(d) Under/over requisition of Taxes

The difference between the net expenditures of any year and the amounts received to finance these expenditures is carried forward to the subsequent year to either increase or reduce the net revenue requirement from ratepayers.

2. RESERVE FOR WORKING FUNDS

The reserve for working funds at December 31, 1984 is applicable to the elementary and secondary school operations of the Board as follows:

Elementary	33,500
Secondary	186,500
	220,000

3. RETIREMENT GRATUITIES PLAN

Under the retirement gratuities plan, unused sick leave can accumulate and employees after a certain period of employment (teaching staff - 10 years, non-teaching staff - 5 years) may become entitled to a cash payment of 50% of the unused credits to a maximum of 50% of annual salary when they leave the board's employment.

These accumulated days, to the extent that they could be used to determine the cash payment to an employee on terminating, amount to $1,523,000 as at December 31, 1984 ($1,394,000 as at December 31, 1983). No provision has been made on account of the retirement gratuities plan.

The amount paid in the current year in respect of the retirement gratuities plan was $52,328 ($90,851 in 1983).

4. NET LONG-TERM LIABILITY REPAYMENTS

Of the net long-term liabilities outstanding of $912,000, principal amounting to $641,000 plus interest amount to $250,333 is payable over the next five years as follows:

	Principal	Interest	Total
1985	$ 128,000	$ 68,698	$ 196,698
1986	124,000	59,355	183,355
1987	120,000	50,160	170,160
1988	130,000	41,015	171,015
1989	139,000	31,105	170,105
	$ 641,000	$ 250,333	$ 891,333

5. DEBT CHARGES AND CAPITAL LOAN INTEREST

The Revenue Fund expenditure for debt charges and capital loan interest includes principal and interest payments as follows:

	Elementary	Secondary
Principal payments on long-term liabilities	$ 107,000	$ 13,000
Interest payments on long-term liabilities	75,805	1,625
	$ 182,805	$ 14,625

Zion Canadian Girls In Training (C.G.I.T.), Carnarvon, celebrated the 70th Anniversary of the organization in Canada, at their first Mother and Daughter Banquet, Monday, April 22. Co-chairing the evening were Gail Barnhart, President and Debbie Thomas, Vice-President.

Following the Blessing, asked by Debbie, Terry Johnson acted as hostess. 52 girls, mothers and guests enjoyed a delicious buffet, provided by Zion U.C.W.

Corsages were presented to the leaders, Sandy Johnson and Evelyn Coleman by Angie Carpenter and Donna Thomas.

A toast to the mothers was given by Tanya Russell, responded to by Mrs. Eleanor Harrison. Holly Archer presented Mrs. Toye with a corsage. To our guests, a toast was given by Wanita Harrison, with Mrs. Joan Fennell responding. A corsage was presented to Mrs. Lola Prentice of the Hyland Crest Seniors Home by Tracey Toye. Jennie Tomlinson shared "What C.G.I.T. and Our Church Mean to Me", responded to by the Rev. C. Westhaver.

A monetary presentation to Zion Church was made by Stephanie Toye and accepted by Mr. Ron Fennell, Chairman of the Board of Stewards. Appreciation to the U.C.W. was expressed by Rowan Meggison and replied to by Mrs. Elsie Bursey. Thanks to the C.G.I.T. Leaders and expressed by Karen Thomas, with Evelyn Coleman, Superintendent, replying.

All present enjoyed the entertainment provided by Lisa Tomlinson, Gail Barnhart, Heather Stevens, Holly Archer, Stephanie Toye, Angie Carpenter and Joan Fennell, accompanist. Skits were led by Dana Audet, Brenda Stevens, Debbie Sisson and Stephanie Toye. Toos Reid, a guest, led a delightful sing-song.

Sandy Johnson, leader of the Intermediates, advised the girls of forthcoming events, and Terry Johnson gave the closing remarks.

The dinner tables were beautifully decorated with scenes depicting the

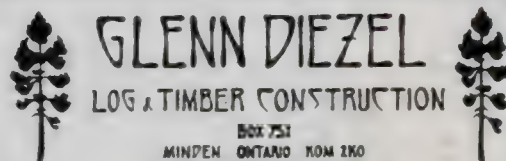

C.G.I.T.'s fulfillment of their four-fold purpose: to Cherish Health, Seek Truth, Know God and Serve Others.

The happy occasion came to a close with the lighting of candles and the benediction by Mr. Westhaver.

Dear readers. Another week has started here, the weather is surely fine. I'll try to tell you who all came, relatives to visit or take them out to dine. Mary Oliver's son Raymond came to take his mother out. Ken Vaughan came to visit his mother too. Mrs. Eastman had visitors, even Mrs. Knight too. Our son Nelson and wife Marie came from London, Ontario, to take me out for lunch. Then up to see them shoot the white water, which was quite a sight.

Congratulations to John Stewart, we would like to say, who had a birthday this 21st April day.

It is good to have Edith Welch back with us again, after being in hospital for a few days. Doctors taking tests and X-rays.

We are sorry to report Mrs. Della Curry suffered a stroke and to hospital has gone, and we do not know for just how long.

Mrs. Gilbank seems to be coming along okay. Her family come to visit her each and every day.

Our maintenance men are putting screens in our windows today. So a little fresh air will be coming our way.

We would like to thank Rev. John James of Haliburton United Church, for coming down and conducting a very interesting service in the chapel, this lovely 23rd of April day, and Fred Ballard the music did play.

Tuesday afternoon Linda showed us 3 interesting movies. To all who came to see "Mac's Mill", "Joanne's Bird" and "Lively Country".

Wednesday noon Doris said if we promised to behave ourselves and not kick up a fuss, she would take all who wanted to go in the Hyland bus. So we piled in and away we went to get some fresh air, every time we hit a bump we said a little prayer. Linda came too to make sure we didn't slip, maybe even break a leg or dislocate a hip. We drove all around the countryside, the fresh air was good to feel and we never worry with Doris at the wheel. We all enjoyed this very much and when it was over, Doris brought us safely back sober.

Thursday afternoon the UCW from Carnarvon ladies came down to Hyland Crest, brought and served a tasty lunch and were our special guests. We had a birthday party for those who had birthdays in April, with a lovely birthday cake.

It was good to have old friends to come along. Doris played the music for a good old sing-a-long. It was good to have Lil Rawlins and Elsie Bursey come back to Hyland Crest. They both worked here for many years and gave their very best.

We would like to thank the Duncans and Fountains for coming Thursday night to call the bingo games.

Ada Shorter's son and wife who live down Oshawa way, came to visit his mother this 28th April day.

Our sympathy to Mrs. Shuyler, we would like to say. For the loss of her brother, who just passed away.

Friday afternoon our entertainers came, to lead us in a sing-a-long. Grace to lead us and Florence Robinson to play the tunes. She did just fine. Come back to us again sometime. Then Murray Fearrey and his wife came to call and were our special guests. Which man do you think we should elect? Which will serve us best?

If you have an unpleasant neighbour, the odds are they have one too.

Many thanks to all who contributed their time, expertise and worldly goods to our successful yard sale. The final total is over $500. We plan to donate our "left-overs" to the Famine Relief Flea Market to be held on May 11, at the Legion.

Our contribution to Famine Relief will be a Time and Talent Auction to be held on June 29th.

C.H.A.C.E. is holding a Mother's Day Dance and Pot Luck on May 11, in the upstairs room of the Haliburton Arena. We have obtained a special occasion permit under which minors are allowed. Tickets are $5.00 for each person over sixteen. This is an excellent opportunity for the family to give Mother an excuse to sleep in on Sunday morning. Come and bring a favourite dish to share and dance the night away to the sounds of Ed Whiteway.

This month we will be adding an outside sandbox and some tire swings. There will be a workshop on making tire swings on May 25. If you are interested please call C.H.A.C.E. for details about supplies needed. During the month we will be making Mother Day crafts, crepe paper flowers, egg carton caterpillars, fabric design, and starting outdoor planting. Circle time will be on Wednesday mornings at 11 o'clock.

C.H.A.C.E. will be at the Spring Fling on May 19 in Glebe Park with two clowns and balloons to give away.
